To Whom It May Concern:

In my role as Vice President and General Manager of Egan Visual Inc. I had the pleasure of working with Patrick Egan as one of our top sales agents and subsequently as our National Sales Manager. During his involvement with the company he brought a sense of energy and enthusiasm that invigorated our sales force. His involvement in the sales process directly resulted in some of our largest projects to date including large corporate accounts such as Deloitte and Touche, US government contract business and Higher education including University of Toronto and University of Ontario (Durham College).

Patrick has excellent presentation, marketing and technical skills. His overall demeanor puts clients at ease and his understanding of Win / Win relationships creates a long lasting bond with our clients. He was known in the industry, and within the company, as a forthright person who "told it like it is". We miss his candor and his sales insight and I would gladly work with Patrick again if the opportunity arose.

I would recommend Patrick wholeheartedly to any company that is looking to kick-start its sales and make an aggressive move forward.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any further questions.

Best Regards,
